RED CROSS NOTES

The Red Cross Sewing Guild have sent forty-one Christmas parcels to the boys in France from the Munson district. Each parcel contained 1 lb. of fruit cake, 1 cake of Palmolive soap, 2 chocolate bars, 1 pk. of salted peanuts, 2 pks. of chocolate, 2 pks. of Life Savers, 2 pks. of gum, 1 lead pencil, 1 comb, 1 handkerchief, 1 pr. of socks, 1 lb. of tobacco, 2 pks. of cigarettes, shoes, 1 wash cloth and 1 lb. of raisins.

To send these gifts, the Guild had had to draw on its treasury for quite a large sum of money. In order to replace this, the ladies are going to give a Concert and Box Social, on Wed. Nov. 21, in the theatre.

The Guild wish to convey their grateful thanks to the following for donations: Mrs. Benson, $5; Mr. Bishop, $10; Mrs. W. F. White, $5 and 8 suits of pyjamas; Mrs. Valery, $5; Mrs. Russell, $5; Mrs. J. Reed, $2; Mrs. Jacobs, 2 suits of pyjamas.

MUST SHOW THE OFFICIAL RECEIPT

Officials will go after Men who failed to register before specified date.

The Military authorities expect that there are quite a number throughout Alberta who are coming short of the requirements of the law, and will start on Monday scouring the country for such. Military officers, police officials, and men who have been employed in the registrar's office are to go out all through the province and they will be at liberty to accost any man on the street, in the theatre, or in any place of business, asking him to show his post-office receipt that he has registered. If he cannot produce this, he will then be open to the course of the law, and imprisonment may be the penalty provided. Employers will also be approached, and if they have failed to see that all their young men have registered, they will be liable to heavy fines.

ANOTHER MUNSON CASUALTY

VICTORY LOAN MEETING HELD

$250,000.00 to be raised in Drumheller district-Soliciting Team Appointed

The meeting held for Monday night for the purpose of discussing the Victory Loan and appointing a soliciting team, was not very well attended owing to the short time it was advertised, but all those present were very enthusiastic in the support of the Victory Loan in this district.

Dr. Gibson was elected chairman for the evening and J. Bowey, Secretary. Mr. J. Gouge, Chairman of the Drumheller executive of the Victory Loan and Mr. Cummings, Mayor of Drumheller, addressed the meeting.

Mr. Gouge went into all the details of the Loan, why Canada needs money to carry on the war, and how the money is to be raised.

Of the $150,000,000 to be raised in the Dominion, the Executive with headquarters at Drumheller are expected to raise $250,000 from the territory allotted which comprises 42 townships. This is a little less than $6,000 per township or $40 per quarter section. The speaker explained that it was very necessary for everybody to give their support to this loan as it would be impossible for the government to buy the wheat from the farmer without money to buy it with, and to give the Allies credit when buying made-in-Canada goods the country must have money to keep the industrial concerns going.

The soliciting team appointed for the Munson district which comprises see Township 30 in Ranges 17-20-21 and the North & 29 Ranges 19-20-21, were: W. B. Jacobs, W. B. Tarrar, W. A. Milton, Rev. Armstrong, and W. W. McGhee. Other soliciting teams will be appointed at the different points in the allotted area and the executive is offering 5 medals for the team that effects the largest amount in sales.

The Bonds will be offered to the public on Monday next at which time the solicitors will start their work. One of these men will call on you during the next two weeks. Remember, you will not be asked to donate money to the Government, you will be asked to buy Victory Bonds which bear interest at 5 1/2 per cent. and mature in 5, 10 and 20 years, sold in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, etc. This is a good sound investment and you are doing a patriotic act when you buy one of these bonds. They are as "good as the wheat" and the money will be spent in Canada which means it will come back to you. BUY VICTORY BONDS and help win the war.

EXEMPTION TRIBUNAL IN SESSION

APPEAL TO THE WOMEN OF CANADA

By W. J. Hanna, Food Controller
Every woman in Canada is required for food service. Our domestic consumption of flour, wheat, beef and bacon must be reduced by 25 per cent. If this is not done by us the armies on the battlefield will be greatly handicapped in their struggle for victory. There must be concerted effort on the part of the Canadian people to release storable food for export.

The women in Canada have met every appeal that has been made to them so splendidly. I have confidence they will respond to this latest call upon them.

Germany is trying to starve our Mother Country and your boys at the front.

What are you going to do about it?

Ways are before every housewife of the Dominion in which she can help the food situation materially. Some of these are:

1. By signing the Food Service Pledge.
2. By personal saving of bread and flour in her own home.
3. By personal saving of beef and bacon in her own home.
4. By using perishable foods.

(Save the garden truck which has been produced so abundantly this summer. Preserve, can, dry and store.)

By serving her family more fresh food instead of beef and bacon.

By substituting other cereals like cornmeal, buckwheat flour, rice and oatmeal in place of wheat products.

7. By carefully seeing that good food is not thrown into the garbage can. Every year in this country $50,000,000 worth of good food is wasted by kitchen carelessness.

Why does Canada Raise Money by Selling Bonds?

BONDS are issued payable in ten or twenty years, as the case may be.

It means that repayment of the money will be spread over ten or twenty years instead of being raised by taxation to meet current expenditures.

To raise by taxation all the money as fast as it is needed to carry on Canada's share in winning the war, would be an unbearable burden upon the people.

It would mean that more than a million dollars a day would have to be raised right now.

But to raise money by selling Canada's Victory Bonds means that those of the next generation who will benefit by the sacrifices this generation is making;—who will share in the freedom this generation is fighting for and largely paying for—will also pay their share.

And when you buy Canada's Victory Bonds you make a first-class business investment in a security that is absolutely safe, likely to enhance in value after the war, and bearing a good rate of interest.

You help the country by keeping open the British market for Canadian products and this helps the general welfare in which you share.

And again, every Canadian who buys a Victory Bond becomes a financial partner or backer of Canada in the war.

When you buy a Canada Victory Bond you give a personal pledge that you are going to help to win the war.

Every man and woman in Canada can help to win the war by buying Canada's Victory Bonds. And Canada wants the personal, individual interest and co-operation of every man and woman in the country.

The buying of Victory Bonds by the whole people unites them in a determination to win the war.

Every purchase of Canada's Victory Bonds is a blow for freedom against the tyranny of German Kultur.

Every bond sold is a new guarantee that Canada is in the war to the finish, until victory is with the Allies and the world has been made safe to live in.

Every bond you buy is a new pledge that Canada will remain true to herself, the Empire, the Allies and to freedom's cause.

So it is both patriotic and good business to

Huge Program

June 50 Ships Valued at $250,000.00 For Coast Yards

British Columbia's shipbuilding program provides for the construction of some 117,000 gross tons of commercial shipping, which will have a total carrying capacity of nearly $85,000 tons. The value of these ships alone is $250,000.

While this estimate of construction of tonnage is only approximate, it includes practically every ship of importance in freight-carrying. There are, however, a number of small ships being built, such as fishing boats, which have not been included. With these and total tonnage being about 150,000.

All the ships forming a part of the present program of shipbuilding are taken in account. Some of the ships are already in the water, and are scarcely begun, but the amount of tonnage given represents definite contracts only.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

PRIZED BY MOTHERS

Mrs. Henry Vanderder, Rodney Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past five years, and prices then very high. I have proved of such value to me that I always keep a box on hand. Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets she would use nothing else. They are thorough and mild in action. I never fail to get nothing else. Baby well. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Shortage of Sugar

In England

British Food Controller Fixes the Price of Jam and Jellies

The shortage of sugar in England is strikingly brought out in the order of the British food controller, a copy of which has reached the United States food administration, fixing the prices of jams and jellies. The death of sugar practically prohibited home made jams and jellies, and the supply of imported sugar of every British diet must come from the factories. To protect the sale of prices and ingredients, the food controller has, therefore, issued a compulsory schedule of prices and ingredients. The order went into effect September 1. The retail prices per pound, fixed by the order are as follows:

Apricot, cherries, strawberries, and black, brack, cranberry, or pineapple, 24 cents.
Raspberries, 23 cents.

SERGE AS REPRESENTED IN THE FASHIONABLE

WHAT is there about a serge frock that makes it of so much importance year after year? Perhaps the answer is to be found in one woman's expression. "There is something so comfortable about a serge frock that I never fail to have one in my wardrobe." One must agree with her that there is much truth in this statement. This season finds serge placed at the top of fashion's ladder. Frequently it is used in combination with taffetas and satins. For street wear in the fall there is no end to the service of a serge frock, and if the air is a bit chilly a fur scarf is all that need be worn over the frock. And then in the bitter cold winter weather a serge frock beneath a comfortable topcoat makes the wearer oblivious to the falling of the thermometer.

Many of the new serge frocks are made with high collars. The collar seems to be a continuation of the frock, as in the case of the brown model. The pointed turn-overs give a smart touch to the model, especially since they are of contrasting color. The same material is repeated on the cuffs. Double belts are being emphasized on quite a number of models. In this instance silk braid is used to gain the effect.

The girl at college, or the one at business, would delight in the plain little frock checked in green and blue. Practical pockets are provided in the blouse and skirt. With a supply of white collars the frock could be freshened up frequently.

Tunics in varied forms are in again. One style is exemplified in the black dress. Here pleated serge falls over a foundation of black satin. The uneven line of the overskirt has a style value, as have also the revers on the blouse. So many of the blouses and frocks for fall have this latter feature. Black satin sleeves preserve unity and a white satin collar renders the somber black becoming to the majority of complexions.

If a person objects to an entire serge frock for indoors, the illustration of the serge and plaid taffeta combined will appeal. The taffeta upper renders the frock comfortable. A frock of this kind allows one to have two waist lines, an extremely lowered one and a slightly raised one. A white satin collar with a ruffled edge contributes a fetching note.

Colors may come and colors may go, but dark blue remains popular forever. A dark blue serge frock is a wonderful asset to the woman with a limited wardrobe. It is dark and practical without being somber. The model shown is a very practical one, having a satisfactory trimming of black silk braid, suggestive of things military, black buttons and a clever introduction of pockets.

PREVENTION OF BRIBERY

All Necessary Steps Taken to Prevent Corruption Under Military Service Act.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—In setting up the machinery for the operation of the Military Service Act, special care has been taken to select only officials of the most trustworthy character. In the operation of the Act, attempts at bribery are always possible, in Canada no less than in other countries.

Attempts to bribe any member of an exemption tribunal or medical board, or a military representative, means a term of imprisonment of not less than five years. It will be very difficult for anyone so inclined to set aside the regulations of the Military Service Act by corruption.

Not all of the preparations made to guard against venality and unfairness in the operation of the Act can be made public, but it may be announced that attempts to bribe officials, in view of the checks and supervisions to be imposed, will be an exceedingly hazardous business.

Who'll Pay That Mortgage?

That mortgage—or other indebtedness—may cause you no worry. You know you can repay it if all goes well. But there's the rub. What if things go wrong? Suppose you should die—could your wife pay the mortgage without your income? An Imperial Endowment Policy for the amount of the indebtedness will insure its repayment whether you live or die. There is no other means of meeting the case that is quite so certain—that leaves nothing to chance. And the annual investment required is very moderate—moderate at least when you consider the peace of mind it will afford you. Look at this problem squarely—don't dodge—don't wait. The advantages of life insurance are available only to those in good health. Send today for information about a policy to suit your particular need. To-morrow may be too late.

MISS SIXTEEN PICKS THE BEST OF FASHION OFFERINGS

Velvet By All Means for Best

Her Dress Hat Flops Becomingly

IT IS surprising to see how quickly the young girl formulates her ideas of good dressing. Often, nay, usually, she is extreme, but never passe, if she has anything to say about it. Discount her craving for novelty, and you will find that she has a pretty good idea of what is what in fashion circles.

A typical wardrobe, including the best that the season has to offer, has been selected here to help the young girl and her mother in the choice of her winter clothes. Nothing is included which could not be called stylish, yet nothing is in the least extreme.

First of all, there is a street suit of the tailored type in a heavy, well-wearing cheviot. This rough material is coming more into vogue than it has been for some time, and is eminently practical. The young girl will like the pockets; they remind her of her brother's or somebody else's brother's trench suit. Her sports hat is one of the new camel's hair hats, in a novel and becoming shape. There is a vest to the suit of white broadcloth, and walking shoes, with the new long last to help out the chic of the costume.

When she isn't wearing her suit, she will be found in the schoolroom in a stylish combination of dark green serge and plaid silk. Plaids are so smart this season. Over this frock she will wear a top coat of rough storm mixture, with a belt and button-up collar.

For best, there should be a velvet frock—or velvet—teen will do. If made on the long-waisted, youthful lines, like that in the picture, and relieved by a light gimp, it can't help but be becoming to a miss in her middle teens.

And for parties there must be a sweet little frock that won't look too mature. Nothing prettier than Georgeanne, trimmed with adorable little ruffles, could be imagined. A knot of colored velvet ribbon to contrast with the frock gives it character.

The dress hat for wear with best clothes should be of black velvet, with one of the new floppy brims. A wreath of fine silk flowers, in contrasting colors, is quite enough of trimming.

Ruffled Georgeanne is not Too Sophisticated

In all the talk about food resources nothing has been said to encourage

...has been said to encourage the buckwheat pancake. The sight of a field of buckwheat is a most unusual vision; the production was less in 1916 than in the ten years preceding. Buckwheat is not a cer-

It is, botanically, though, classified as a grass, and its original name, beechwheat, has been given it because of the resemblance of its seed to that of the beech. The pioneers who cleared a little space in the forest for growing corn and beechwheat, crops which were ready before the arrival of the winter foods, and thus the beechwheat pancake became the staple food of the early settlers. The dark-complexioned, solid pancaked, and the skin eruption known as beechwheat itch, replaced in the pioneer housekeepers' dietary by a more palatable and nutritious "beechwheat's heart" and composed of a mixture of flour, which one can see in the batter, and butter, added generously with country butter and deluged with syrup, the Americans have had nothing like the beechwheat pancake in this abundant form. It is quite possible that its very merits have caused it to be so common, and it is con- sidered to economy it encourages consumption, not only of itself, but of on buckwheat cake relies largely on its "trimmings" for excellence. Buckwheat is also a source of nutrition to the bee, which manufactures from it a sweet of good quality, though less delicate in flavor than that from fruit blossoms. However, it has a further virtue in that it flourishes on comparatively poor soil, and grows to good rank and lodged in farmers' vocabulary, and it will smother weeds, and the perfect grains, winnowed out after the weeds are killed, make a most advantageous cover. Another advantage is that when wheat or corn have been killed out by frost, buckwheat can be sown before frost. From an economic standpoint, buckwheat should not be entirely overlooked.—Detroit Free Press ect on human life. The saloon is dged about with restrictions pecu-ness to itself. No other legitimate stress is treated in such a way. The stress is treated as a disease having possibilities of harm to man life.

Human life was probably never so healthy as now. "A soundness is the keynote of all work for civil purity, wise marriage, and for the avoidance of all diseases, drunkenness, epilepsy, idiocy and insanity."

Alcohol is in its relation to race degradation has been receiving more attention for years. It has been served that where the drink habit has been conspicuous for more than a generation, the race has degenerated physically and mental weakness.

Of 1,200 cases of idiosyncy and feeble-mindedness in the State of New York, 13.25 per cent. were attributed alcoholic parentage. 19 per cent. the epileptics in the Craig Colony, New York had alcoholic parentage.

A case is recorded where a normal

...by a second marriage to a heavy drinker one became a drunk-one was infantile; both contracted tuberculosis (the first in the family); the third was a social degenerate and drunkard. By a third marriage to a sober man the children were reared in a normal home. Dr. Sullivan in England found that of the children of 120 drunken mothers, 55.8 per cent. died in infancy and childhood, 30.8 per cent. were feeble-minded, and 13.4 per cent. were delinquents. Many of these women had other women relatives married to their husbands. The mortality among their children was 40 per cent. "Unhygienic conditions in the home, the drinker increase child mortality. Money spent for drink cannot be spent for food, clothing, or for fuel or for clothing. Conditions thus created tend to increase child mortality, especially if the mother is a heavy drinker. The mother, by her drinking, is kept away from the door, because of a sickening father—J. H. Hazlewood, Department of Social Service.

It does not appear to be known when or why the round towers in and were built, but some believe the natives erected them as a refuge for the fugitives, and for safety in time of danger. Many of the towers have the tops broken off, and those which show the tops are mostly of the same form. There is no door on the ground, the doors being purposely left open to the wind from the ground and were reached by ladders. After the people had climbed up the ladders they closed up them and thus were out of reach the Danes who frequently invaded country. The tiny windows of the towers were made of the same also. About eighty round towers remain in Ireland, but only a few of them are perfect—Family Herald.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open street. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.
